

ADMISSION

Admission Criteria

Individuals may apply to the School of Education and Human Development as formal applicants to pursue a master of arts degree, a sixth year certificate of advanced study (SYC), state certification or licensure, or to take courses as non-matriculated candidates seeking credits for career enhancement or personal growth. Applicants for the MA must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university and give promise of meeting the standards set by the School. Applicants for the SYC must hold a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a 3.00 cumulative quality point average. The master's degree must be in a major relevant to the SYC program of interest. In addition, individual departments may set specific requirements concerning interviews, adequate scores on tests, course waivers, computer literacy, and distribution of undergraduate courses.

Students may be required to take one or more English writing courses if their writing skills do not meet graduate level standards.

Dates for admission vary by program. A complete listing of deadlines can be found online. In order to be reviewed, applications must be completed on or before the program deadline.

If a person has been denied admission to the School twice, their application will not be considered again.

Applicants must complete the formal online application for admission; provide a current resume and a personal statement; present two recommendation letters (completed online), on the appropriate forms, to support their professional potential; interview with a faculty panel; and meet other entry requirements as determined by the Connecticut State Board of Education.

Testing Requirements for Programs Leading to Initial Certification

Applicants for the School Counseling, School Psychology, and all teacher preparation programs must take PRAXIS CORE, SAT, ACT or the GRE. Candidates who do not have passing scores on one or more sections of the test may be required to remediate any deficient area. Remediation may include re-taking and passing the sections that were not passed, taking additional coursework, or other remediation activities. If additional courses are required, the candidate must complete the coursework at a grade of B (3.00) or above and provide an official transcript to the Dean's office prior to student teaching. Please see advisor for additional details and recommendations.

Given that we seek to admit the best qualified applicants to our programs and that our applicants must maintain a GPA of 3.00 in their program of study, we generally expect applicants to come with a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.00. Faculty realize that some otherwise qualified applicants may not possess this minimum GPA, so they carefully review applications to assess candidate qualifications for our programs.

GPA between 2.40 and 2.67: Any applicant whose undergraduate GPA is lower than 2.67 must complete a GPA waiver request as part of the admission process. The waiver form will be sent to the applicant from Graduate Admissions. This form allows applicants to explain any extenuating circumstances that may account for their undergraduate record. The decision to grant the formal GPA waiver will be made based on the applicant's explanation of the low GPA, demonstrated ability to meet the academic expectations of the program of study, fitness for the field, and potential for success in the field. The quality of the applicant's other admission materials (i.e., letters of recommendation, application essay, faculty interview) will also be considered.

GPA below 2.40: Any applicant whose undergraduate GPA is below 2.40 must complete a GPA waiver request and meet with the appropriate Program Chair or Program Director to discuss their academic history prior to review of their application for admission. The waiver form will be sent to the applicant from Graduate Admissions. Most applicants with an undergraduate GPA below 2.40 will be required to take additional coursework to improve their academic record and demonstrate readiness for graduate-level study before their application for formal admission to the program will be considered.

Upon the granting of a GPA waiver, the approval form signed by the Department and the Dean's office will be placed in the applicant's file. Applicants who are granted a GPA waiver and are admitted must maintain a minimum GPA of 3.00 to be permitted to continue in the program. Applicants applying for admission to a certification program should note that Connecticut State certification program standards for formal admission to an approved initial educator certification program require candidates to possess a minimum undergraduate cumulative grade point average of B- (2.67 on a 4.0 scale), unless an approved GPA waiver form documents that a waiver was granted.

Required coursework for elementary, secondary, and TESOL education initial educator certification programs includes a minimum of 39 general education credits with coursework in five or six of the following areas, depending on the program and certification regulations: mathematics, English, natural sciences, social studies, foreign language, and fine arts. Elementary Education majors only are required to have a survey course in U.S. history covering 50 years. This general education coursework is normally completed as part of one's undergraduate program. Applicants with missing prerequisite coursework must complete it before student teaching. Admission with prerequisite course deficiencies varies by program. Generally, no more than six credits of subject area and/or prerequisite coursework may be deficient to be formally admitted into a certification program. Students seeking certification in Secondary Education must have a B (3.00) average in the relevant content area courses.

Enrollment as a non-matriculated candidate requires prior completion of a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Candidates in this status may take a total of six credits in certification programs or nine credits in non-certification programs before matriculation/full admission is required. Non-matriculated students are not eligible for any tuition aid or financial support. Note: successful completion of initial coursework as a non-matriculated candidate does not guarantee formal admission.

Note: Non-matriculated students are not eligible for any tuition aid or financial support. Successful completion of initial coursework as a non-matriculated candidate does not guarantee formal admission.

Applicants for the MA, SYC, or Cross-Endorsement Programs

Students seeking admission must complete and submit the following online:

1. A completed application. Apply online.
2. A non-refundable $65 application fee.

Fairfield's code is 3390.
8. Once the file has been reviewed, participate in an admissions interview.
9. Consult a faculty advisor about course selection.

Please note: In order to be reviewed, applications must be complete on or before the program deadline. For an application to be considered complete, all documents noted above must be received by the Office of Graduate Admission by the program deadline. Program deadlines vary. A complete listing of deadlines can be found online.

If formal admission has not been granted prior to the beginning of the semester, qualified applicants may apply for permission to register as a non-matriculated candidate.

Cross-endorsements: Cross-endorsement certification is negotiated between the graduate student and the Connecticut State Department of Education. To ensure that required coursework is taken, applicants with some coursework in a cross-endorsement area are advised to have the State review their materials before entry to a program.

Transfer Students: The School reserves the right to contact the chair and/or director of any programs attended by students who want to transfer into a program offered by the School of Education and Human Development.

Applicants for Advanced Training Certificate Programs

Those seeking formal admission to an advanced training certificate program must complete and submit the following online:

1. A completed formal application. Apply online.
2. A non-refundable $65 application fee.

6. For the Advanced Training Certificate in School-based Marriage and Family Therapy: Provide documentation of scores on the Praxis Core, SAT, ACT, GRE, or other equivalent test.

Non-Matriculated Applicants

1. Complete the online admission application and pay the $65 application fee. Apply online.
2. Provide an official or unofficial undergraduate transcript that shows the undergraduate degree you have earned. Those who wish to begin an advanced training certificate program of study as a non-matriculated student need to produce official or unofficial copies of both their undergraduate and graduate transcripts showing their degrees.
3. Call the School of Education and Human Development office at 203-254-4250 to be directed to the Program Chair or Director for the program that interests you.
4. After you have met with the appropriate advisor and your non-matriculated status has been approved and processed by the Dean's office, you may register on or after the date when non-matriculated students may begin registering.

No recommendations are needed at this time. They will be needed if and when you apply for full matriculation.

Note: Courses taken will count toward degree or certification requirements if you later become a matriculated student, as long as you earn grades of B or better in them. However, successful completion of coursework does not guarantee formal admission.

Professional Development Non-Degree Students

Post-master's degree students seeking cross-endorsement or licensure who only need one to five courses (3 to 15 credits) may apply for non-degree student status. Students who are interested in taking courses for professional development and are not seeking a degree may also apply for non-degree status. Courses taken under this designation cannot be applied toward a degree and students cannot apply for financial aid. Students may apply for this designation by using the following procedure:

1. Call the School of Education and Human Development office at 203-254-4250 to be directed to the appropriate Program Chair or Director.
2. Obtain a copy of your official or unofficial graduate school transcript that shows you have completed your master's degree.
3. Complete the non-degree form in the dean's office and pay the $65 application fee, payable by cash or check.
4. After you have met with the Program Chair or Director and discussed prospective courses, the dean's office will process and approve the registration. Registration is online.

Note: Courses taken with this designation cannot be used toward a degree program.

Certain exemptions based on age and housing status apply. Matriculating students are defined as those enrolled in a degree seeking program. More detailed information and the required downloadable forms are available online. Completed forms should be submitted directly to the Student Health Center. Although this is not required to complete an application, you must provide proof of immunity/screening prior to course registration.
